Tracking responses, climate and fire

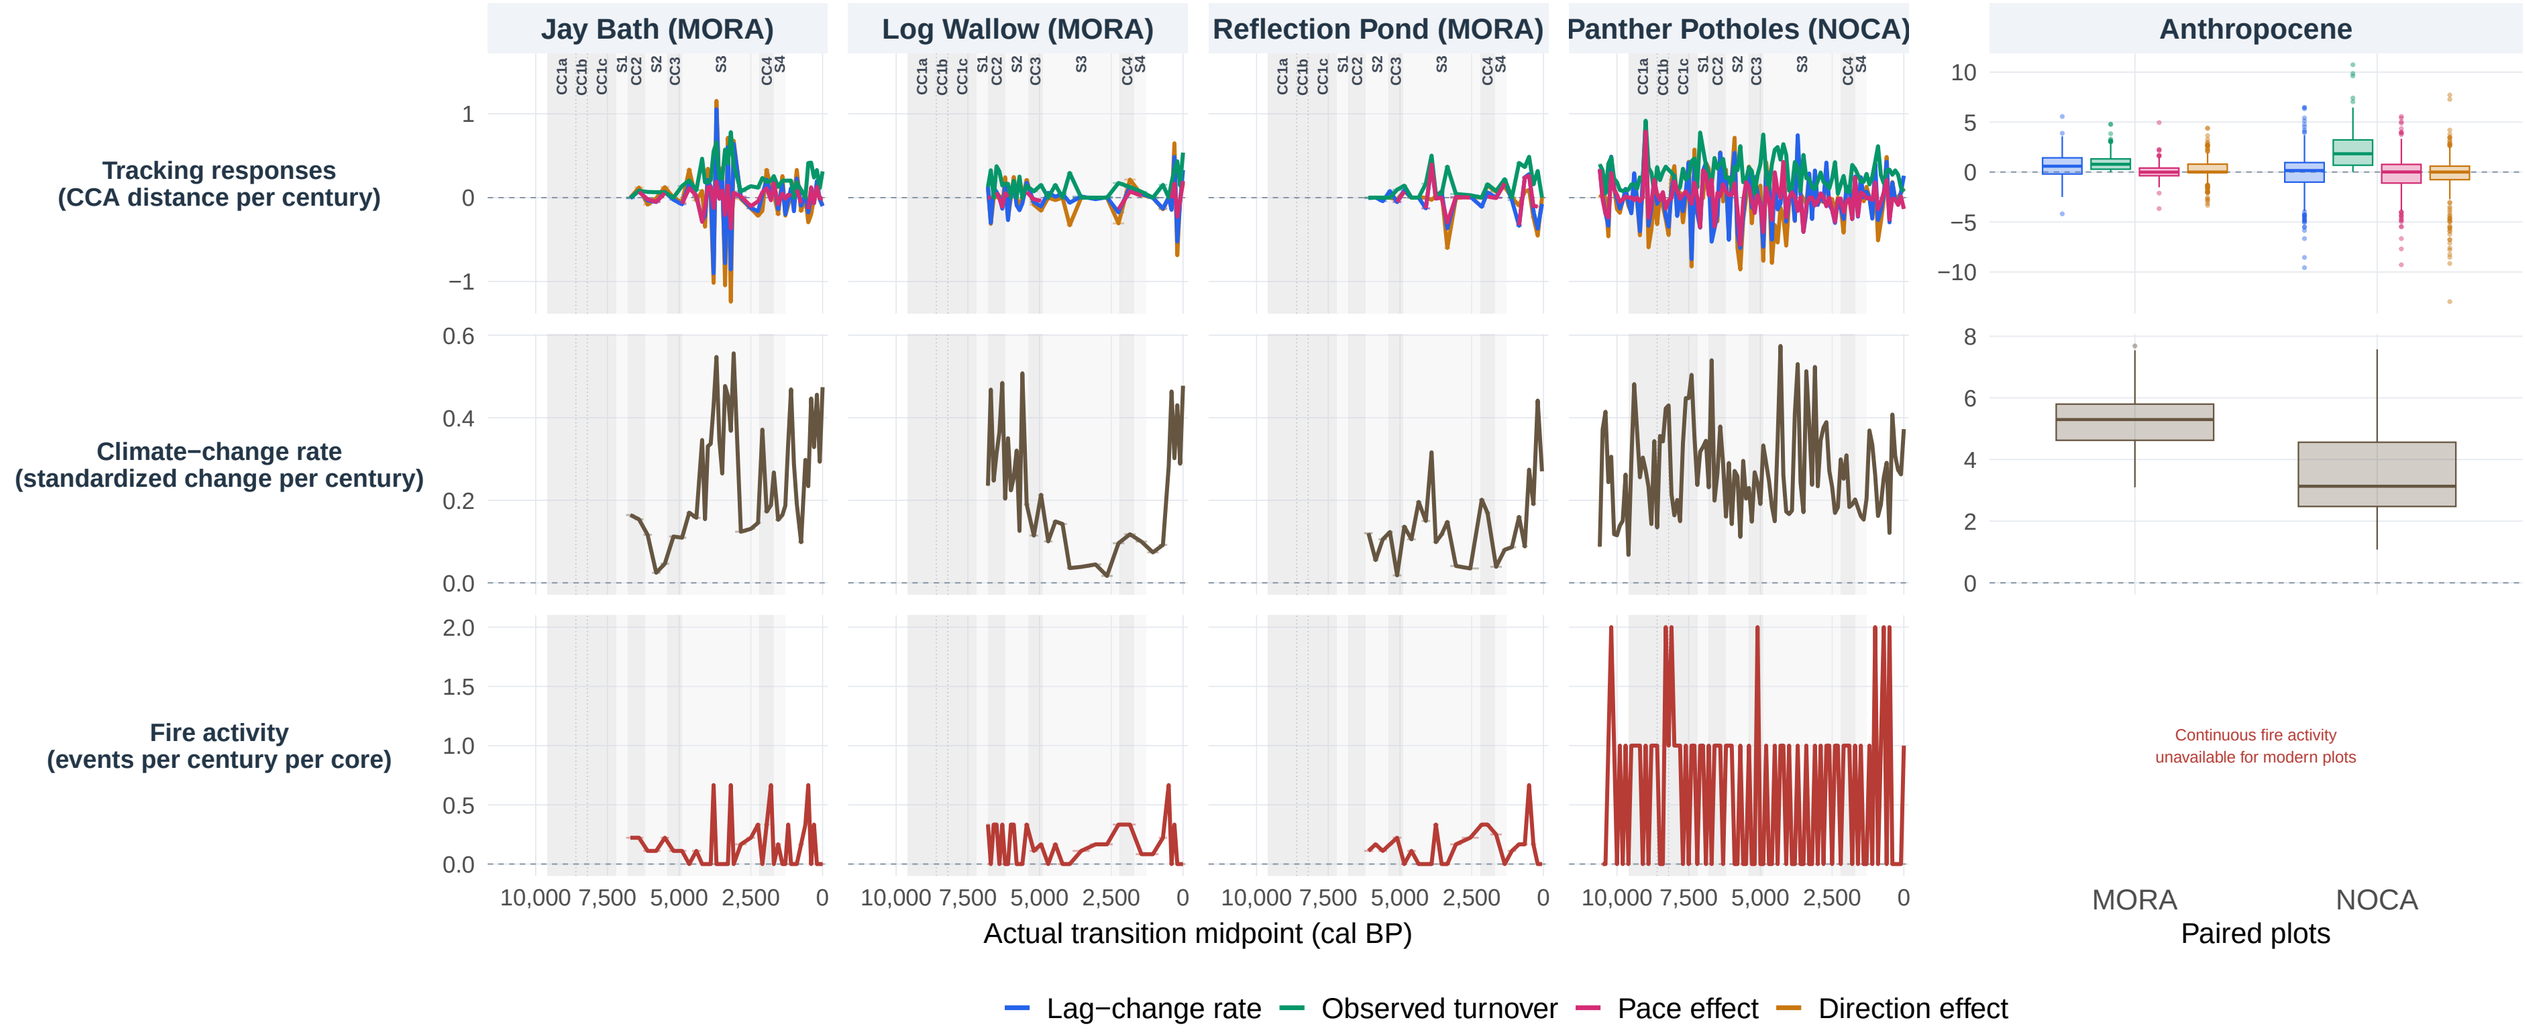
Four Holocene lake columns with established climate periods; Anthropocene paired−plot boxplots



Primary reconstructed transitions. Horizontal spans show actual elapsed intervals; points and lines show transition estimates.
Four lake columns share response scales and cal−BP axes. Modern plots have separate scales. MORA lakes share regional fire exposure, measured in events per century per eligible core.
Gray bands retain the separate established climate−change and stability periods.